Winning is Giving

Winning is giving your best self away.

Winning is serving with grace everyday.

You'll know that you've won when your friends say it's true. "I like who I am, when I'm around you. You look for the best in others you see and you help us become who we're trying to be."

Winning is helping someone who's down. It's sharing a smile instead of a frown. It's giving your children a hug by the fire and sharing the values and dreams that inspire.

It's giving your parents the message, "I care. Thanks Mom and Dad for being so fair."

Winners are willing to give more than they get. Their favors are free, you're never in debt.

Winning is giving 100 percent. It's paying your dues, your taxes, your rent.

It's trying and doing, not crying and stewing. Winners respect every color and creed. They share and they care for everyone's needs.

The losers keep betting that winning is getting. But there's one of God's laws that they keep forgetting.

And this is the Law you can live and believe, The more that you give, the more you'll receive.

The more you give, the more you receive. Are you willing to live the same life over? I don't know what I'm going to do when I grow up. I have goals, but God has goals for me, too. What are your goals? Go after them. You are still breathing. There is time to fulfill your dreams.
